J. Edgar Hoover, Esq.
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Constitution Avenue and Tenth Street, NW.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Council on Foreign Relations is about to issue the third edition of American Agencies Interested in International Affairs, compiled by Ruth Savord, our Librarian.

The list aims to list all such agencies. However, since the Department of Justice has designated some of them as subversive, the Council feels that the American public, in using our Directory, should be informed as to which of the organizations have been so designated.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

I would appreciate it if you would provide us with an official list of all the organizations now considered subversive by the Department. Since the material for the Directory is almost ready for the press, it would be helpful if we could receive this as soon as possible.

With appreciation of your assistance, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Mallory:

Your letter dated July 1, 1948, has been received in which you request an official list of all the organizations now considered subversive by the Department of Justice.

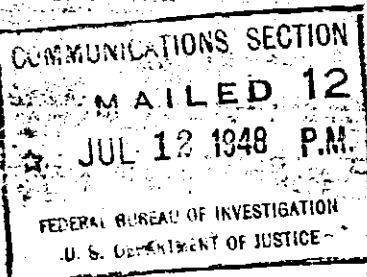

In connection with your request I desire to advise you that this Bureau is an investigative and fact-finding agency only and it is not within the province of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to declare any organization to be subversive. As you know, of course, the Attorney General has recently designated a number of organizations to be subversive and I might suggest that you may desire to communicate directly with the Attorney General for such an official list.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

ASKS CANADA JOIN IN SPY-CATCHING

Foreign Relations Council Head
Urges Cooperation at Dinner of Dominion Society Here

Establishment of a Federal agency to be known as a Commission on Internal Security that would guard against the invasion of "Soviet communism" here was urged last night by Allen W. Dulles, president of the Council on Foreign Relations.

He warned the annual dinner meeting of the Canadian Society of New York, at the Biltmore Hotel, that Soviet leaders had not abandoned their plans to advance communism whether their hopes for a severe depression materialize or not. The former wartime chief of the Office of Strategic Services in Switzerland maintained that Soviet leaders in Moscow had put aside temporary "disappointment" and were playing a "waiting game."

He suggested that the proposed security commission be patterned after Canada's Royal Commission that recently exposed and helped convict members of a spy ring.

"Such a commission could investigate the practices and policies of Soviet communism stemming from abroad but operating here and fanning out in various channels to threaten our democratic institutions," Mr. Dulles asserted. "In fact, it could show how they use and abuse these very institutions of liberty to destroy liberty," he added.

He explained that the commission would not prosecute crimes nor invade the field of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It would merely unearth facts, Mr. Dulles noted.

The commission would use the light of publicity where this would convince "soft-headed people who in the relative security of North America, still believe in communism as a beneficent force in our body politic, and those who still look upon Chinese and other Communists as mere land reformers," he declared.

He warned that the "non-Communist world is the subject of a systematic program of penetration by skilled artisans of world-wide revolution. Their leaders have a fanatic faith in their cause and supreme confidence in ultimate success," Mr. Dulles said.

Both Canada and the United States are being subjected to long-range attacks under a policy that the Soviet Union followed successfully in the Far East and Czechoslovakia, Mr. Dulles maintained. "Whenever they run against the existence of sound economic conditions, they play a waiting game."

"Even Moscow has not been able to hide its disappointment due to the miscalculation of the strength of our economic system. Here we were scheduled to have a serious depression within a year or two of the end of the war. So far we have fooled them. But that means that the Soviet has postponed certain of their planned measures. They have not abandoned them," Mr. Dulles asserted.

In another address Vincent Massey, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, told the audience that "one thing alone can give us peace, the array of force on the side of right."

He said that negotiations with dictators can only be conducted on a basis of "negotiation from strength," as stated by Anthony Eden. Chancellor Massey added that "freedom is a practical business, something to be fought for."

"It is an urgent matter, too," he said, "for in some parts of the world today, in the continent of Asia for example, liberty is now in retreat. A nation must be judged by a triple test—by its belief in freedom, by its practice of freedom, by its willingness to defend freedom."

In compliance with your request this is to advise you that Foreign Affairs: An American Quarterly Review, published by the Council on Foreign Relations, Incorporated, New York, is received regularly and is kept on record at the Bureau Library. The Editor of this journal is Hamilton Fish Armstrong.

DETAILS

For your further information the article "Stalin On Revolution" by Historicus, carried in the January, 1949 issue of Foreign Affairs, pages 175-214, was studied at the Central Research Desk. It was then referred by this Desk to the Overthrow and Destruction of Government Desk where a copy was incorporated in the Communist Party Brief file. It is to be noted that while this article, "Stalin On Revolution," is excellently done, it contains nothing of either an evidentiary or informative nature which is not already in the Brief.

This article "Stalin On Revolution" has been retained at the Central Research Desk awaiting the reaction of the Communist press, following which a short memorandum will be prepared analyzing, comparing and contrasting both the position taken in the article and the Communist attack on it. The first notable Communist press reaction has just occurred in "How 'Historicus' Caricatures History" by George Siskind, Political Affairs, February, 1949, pages 28-36. This issue arrived at the Bureau a few days ago and it is expected other Communist press reactions will soon be forthcoming, following which the aforementioned analysis will be made.

It will be observed on reading the article "Stalin On Revolution" by Historicus that the author draws copiously from Voprosy Leninizma (which translated means "Problems of Leninism") by Joseph Stalin, Russian Edition. Through the Central Research Desk there has been purchased recently an English translation of this same book, entitled "Problems of Leninism" by Joseph Stalin, published by the Foreign Language Publishing House, Moscow, 1947. A copy of this book is now in use at the Central Research Desk and another copy is available in the Bureau Library.

On December 2, 1949, [redacted] Council on Foreign Relations, 58 East 68th Street, New York City, contacted the New York Division and advised that the above organization is a highly confidential organization and that they have held very confidential conferences with such men as General MONTGOMERY, General EISENHOWER, and Mr. SCHUMAN of France. [redacted] stated that the Soviet Union United Nations Delegation is located directly across the street from his office and he inquired whether the Soviet Union could possibly monitor these conferences by use of some sound equipment which might be located in the Soviet Union United Nations Delegation building.

Relative to the above-mentioned inquiry, [redacted] was contacted on December 8, 1949, by Assistant Special Agent in Charge HELMONT and at that time [redacted] stated that the Council on Foreign Relations was a private organization and not affiliated with nor sponsored by any Government department, such as the State Department. He advised, however, that the State Department was cognizant of the work of the Council on Foreign Relations and, at times, personages such as General EISENHOWER, Mr. BEVAN, General MONTGOMERY, and others have had occasion to attend meetings in the Council on Foreign Relations offices within the last few months and to discuss matters and bring material to meetings which were of interest from a security standpoint, inasmuch as it would affect the security of this country if the information fell into the hands of the Soviets.

[redacted] further advised that his concern was that the premises occupied by this Council was directly across the street from the Headquarters of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations and, while he has no fear of telephone tapping or microphone coverage by the Soviets, it occurred to him that they might have some sort of mechanism whereby they could listen to the conferences at these meetings from their Headquarters across the street. [redacted] stated that the purpose of his inquiry was to ascertain if this were possible.

[redacted] was advised by ASAC HELMONT that he was unable to give him any information along this line. ASAC HELMONT further advised that if his organization were performing services for the State Department or other Governmental agencies as a result of which confidential material was made available, he should consult with that agency to ascertain what steps should be taken to maintain the proper security. [redacted] then stated he would write a letter to Mr. ACHESON of the State Department requesting that the FBI make such a check. ASAC BELMONT informed [redacted] that if the Council on Foreign Relations was performing work for the State Department, it would be appropriate to check with the State Department concerning security; however, the method whereby such a check would be made should be left to the discretion of the State Department inasmuch as security checks of [redacted] were not within the field of activities of the FBI.

The files of the New York Division reflect the following information regarding the above-mentioned Council on Foreign Relations:

On an undated three-page subscription pamphlet published by the Council on Foreign Relations it is stated that instant organization is a non-commercial and non-political organization. According to the pamphlet, it studies American foreign relations in an impartial and scholarly spirit. The pamphlet further states that in addition to its program of research, it publishes the quarterly review, "Foreign Affairs", the annual survey, "The United States in World Affairs", the annual "Political Handbook of the World", and volumes by specialists dealing with specific problems affecting American interests and foreign policy. Instant pamphlet lists the officers and directors of the Council on Foreign Relations as follows:

NORMAN H. DAVIS, President
EDWIN F. GAY, Vice-President
ALLEN W. DULLES, Secretary
WHITNEY H. SHEPARDSON, Treasurer
WALTER H. MALLORY, Executive Director
FRANK ALTSCHUL

HAROLD WILLIS DOWNS
STEPHEN DUGGAN
LEON FRASER
PHILIP C. JESSUP
RUSSELL C. LEFFINGWELL
GEORGE O. MAY
FRANK L. POLK
JOHN H. WILLIAMS
OWEN D. YOUNG

The files further indicate that F. D. CARUTHERS, JR., was Business Manager of the Council on Foreign Relations as of March, 1947. The above-mentioned pamphlet reflects the following information regarding foreign affairs:

"'Foreign Affairs' has one aim only—to provide the most expert opinion on the problems of American foreign policy, and on the political,

Congressman Jack Westland (Washington) by letter 1-6-61 advised he recently had called to his attention the Council on American Relations, West Palm Beach, Florida, of which [redacted] and the Council on Foreign Relations, New York City. He requested any information we could provide on these organizations.

Congressman Westland has been in Congress since 1953 and our relations with him have been cordial. We wrote to him most recently in July, 1960, thanking him for his commendatory remarks concerning the FBI which appeared in the "Congressional Record." (62-98984)

Bufiles contain no identifiable information concerning the Council on American Relations, West Palm Beach, Florida, [redacted]

"We have never investigated the Council on Foreign Relations, New York City, and our files contain no identifiable derogatory information concerning it. It was formed in 1922 and is self-described as a noncommercial and nonpolitical organization which studies American foreign relations in an impartial and scholarly spirit. As of January, 1949, Allen W. Dulles was President of the Council on Foreign Relations. It publishes the magazine "Foreign Affairs." (62-5256)"

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to the Office of Assistant Director DeLoach in order that Congressman Westland may be orally advised that we have no information concerning the Council on American Relations and may be furnished the above information concerning the Council on Foreign Relations.

Gentlemen:

CH
In the course of addressing several church and civic groups weekly, I find I am often in need of additional information and publication material on communism and internal subversion. Any material you have available for distribution in this regard will be greatly appreciated.

Recently, there has come to my attention an organization known as "Council on Foreign Relations" with headquarters in New York City. According to several publications this "Council on Foreign Relations" allegedly is America's number one "Red Front" organization. Could you clarify this for me?

Yours very truly,

Dear Sirs,

Several items have come to my attention recently about which I am very confused.

To begin with "What Can I, as a parent, homemaker and concerned citizen, do to fight Communism? What do you propose as the intelligent course to follow to help our country? A good many of our friends are beginning to talk about Communism and they are attending meetings held in various homes, listening to some tape recording which they have purchased regarding Russia and her plans to engulf the world, writing their Congressmen on what they believe and generally becoming highly excited about the situation. Is this the way to fight Communism? At first their reaction was one of quiet disbelief, but now this is being replaced by the feeling that they must do something. I want to do something too!, but before I do, I want to be sure that what I do is right, because from the limited amount I know about Communism I believe it is quite easy to become a pawn of Communism unwittingly. So again, What can I do, overtly, to fight Communism?

Number 2, What is the Council on Foreign Relations? When was it organized? How does it function? Who are it's members?

Thirdly, I had a friend call yesterday and tell me that Resolutions 7936 thru and including 7984 are to be brought before the House of Representatives this week, (now referred to as H. R. 9118 & F. B. 2180) And that it is their understanding that these resolutions are to establish an agency called "Peace Agency" for the purpose of Disarmament. And that if adopted these resolutions will subject our weapons and all type of protection to the jurisdiction of the World Court for International Law, in complete disobedience of the Connolly Amendment to the United Nations Charter. Is this true? EX 101

I realize I may have directed these questions to the wrong Federal group, if so would you kindly refer me to the proper one.

Hoping your advice will clear things up and put me on the right path.

Sincerely,

Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter dated September 19, 1961, has been received, and I appreciate the interest which prompted your communication.

With respect to your question as to what you, as an individual, can do to counter the communist threat, I have always encouraged our citizens to educate themselves to the true nature and methods of the communist movement in order that they may intelligently resist the zealous efforts of its adherents to destroy our form of government. This knowledge helps to avoid the danger of confusing communism with legitimate dissent on controversial issues. We cannot use vigilante action in combating communism, and it is the responsibility of people to report information to the proper authorities. May I suggest you consider my book, "Masters of Deceit," which relates to the story of communism in America and how Americans can fight this menace. It should be available to you at your local libraries or bookstores.

It is not possible for me to furnish you information about the organization you mentioned in your letter since data in the files of the FBI must be maintained as confidential through a regulation of the Department of Justice. Please do not infer that our records do or do not contain anything pertaining to your inquiry. I am unable to offer a source as to where you can obtain the information you seek.

In connection with the other matter you presented, this is a legislative matter, and I have followed the policy over the years of not injecting the FBI into situations involving local or Federal legislation.

Dear [REDACTED]

I have received your letter of August 15, 1963, and I want to thank you for your generous remarks. You may be interested in knowing it is my desire to remain in my present capacity as long as I can be of service to our Nation.

With respect to your inquiry concerning the Council on Foreign Relations, the FBI being an investigative agency of the Federal Government neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. I regret I am not in position to comment along the lines you have requested and it is hoped that you will not infer either that we do or do not have data in our files relating to this group.

In regard to the latest statistics on the communist conspiracy, the enclosed pamphlet, "The Current Communist Threat," discusses the legal action against the Communist Party, USA. Since this was published, on December 17, 1962, the Party, as an organization was found guilty on all twelve counts of the indictment. On the same day, the court sentenced the Party to pay a fine of $120,000. The Party has filed an appeal.

In addition, based on information and witnesses supplied by the FBI, the Attorney General filed petitions with the Subversive Activities Control Board requesting that twenty-seven members of the Communist Party, USA, be ordered to register as members of the Party. Twenty of the hearings have been held In re: Enclosed Leaflet - C.F.R - New Political Party?

These leaflets seem to be widely distributed in our area, and literature of a similar vein.

Knowing something about how the Communists work, I am always of suspicious of propaganda that attacks EVERYTHING -- all Political Parties in the U.S., etc.

Of course we are in an area where there are relatively few avowed Communists; not at all like some parts of the U. S. with which I was quite familiar back in the years immediately preceding during and following World War II

I would appreciate your appraisal of this Leaflet, its source, etc.

C.F.R. - New Political Party?

DEC 19 1963

LENELET By W. B. Taber, Jr., Kansas, Illinois

To fully understand the political situation in this country we must have knowledge of the COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS (CFR). There have been several books written on the subject, all in 1962. One of the best is Mary M. Davison's "The Secret Government of the United States". This is a book that everyone should read. It costs only a dollar and can be had from The Greater Nebraskan, 1330 Turner Boulevard, Omaha 5, Nebraska.

Since Nelson Rockefeller has become a leading contender for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1964 and is a great power within the party; and since he holds equally great power within the Democratic Party, through his control of the Council On Foreign Relations (shared with a few others), the citizen who does not understand the intricate, hidden web of political and financial influence within the CFR is completely in the dark about Nelson Rockefeller.

When Rockefeller said, a short time ago, that he was for the conservatives, the liberals, and the progressives, he was telling us that he stood for no political principle. He stood for the CFR. He could run on either ticket, Democratic or Republican. It really makes little difference to him whether he is elected or whether John F. Kennedy, who is also CFR, is elected. In either case, Nelson Rockefeller (and the other small group of members of the CFR who control it) would control the government.

What it amounts to is that we now have a one-party system. In the Federal Government, high-ranking positions are held by members of the CFR, no matter to which party the President nominally belongs. This is illustrated by the fact that such persons as JOHN J. McCLOY, CHRISTIAN HERTER, JOHN FOSTER DULLES, DILLON, ALLAN DULLES, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, NELSON ROCKEFELLER, and many others, have held high office under both Democratic and Republican administrations. Even Thomas E. Dewey held city, county and state political positions, sometimes in Democratic administrations and sometimes in Republican. The list is long. What then, at national levels, is the difference between the two parties? There is none. All of the above are members of the Council On Foreign Relations. All have promoted the objectives of the Council On Foreign Relations. We have, in effect, a one-party system, and that one party is the Council On Foreign Relations.

Are there other countries with one-party political systems? I will name a few. Russia, Jugoslavia, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Albania, Outer Mongolia, North Korea, Ceylon, Indonesia, North Vietnam, China, Cuba are some of them. They have open, one-political-party systems. In this country, the general public are not yet aware of the fact that we have a one-party system.

This trend is not good. For, in a one-party system, the people have nothing to say about how the government is run and what the policy of the government shall be. No matter how they vote, they get the same results. There might be a slight change in personnel, a slight shift in positions, such as Assistant Secretary of State Dillon in the Eisenhower administration shifting to Secretary of the Treasury in the Kennedy administration. But that is all.

No matter whether the President calls himself Democrat or Republican, he directs affairs so as to continue the one-party system; and he follows the policies set down by the Council On Foreign Relations.

Is it any wonder, then, that the United States Government continues to assist the other one-party system governments---that is, the Communist governments---in every way possible? We assist them with money, training their soldiers with military equipment and supplies, with food, with industrial equipment, with know-how, with education.

We assist them in every way we can. Particularly when they are in political difficulties, we come to their rescue with political support and even military action. WE ARE NOW SUPPORTING THE CONGO AGAINST KATANGA. WE ARE ASSISTING CASTRO BY SUPPORTING HIS CO-CONSPIRATOR, JUAN BOSCH, IN THE TAKE-OVER OF THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.

Is it any wonder that the United States Government supports the United Nations in cooperation with the Communist governments?

The objective of the United Nations is a World Wide Socialist Dictatorship. A one-party system of government for the entire world. That, also, is not good. For, even if the people are allowed to vote, it will make no difference how they vote. The same party---the only party---shall continue to rule. The same individuals at the top will hold the power. They will deal out to the people only what they wish them to have. Freedom will disappear and tyranny shall prevail over the entire world.

If we are to return to the traditional American mode of government, we will have to strengthen our two-party system. Then, the people will have a choice.

There are, in fact, two distinct and opposing lines of political thought. There are the misnamed 'liberals', who would permanently establish a one-party system by supporting the type of government we have had for the past several decades. The other principle is that of the conservatives, who believe in a limited Constitutional Republic, in which the people control the government and not the other way around.

I am confident that if the public can be brought to realize that our government is on its way to becoming a one-party system, the conservatives shall recognize the danger and will take the steps required to bring about the necessary reform. WE MUST HAVE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATES, AND NO MATTER WHETHER THEY CALL THEMSELVES DEMOCRAT OR REPUBLICAN, THEY MUST BE ELECTED TO OFFICE.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have recently been reading about an agency of the government known as the Council On Foreign Relations and have become confused on the actual purpose of this organization. While many prominent government officials have been linked with this agency, it appears that their goals are contrary to the basic freedoms that this country was founded on.

If you could give me any information on this Council of Foreign Relations, I would greatly appreciate it. Also, is the ADA linked to the Communist Party in any way?

Thank you for your consideration. (And please keep up the good work!)

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir,

With full respect to you and your Department, and confidence in you as a dedicated American, I feel I must write you. I am assured that you will not mislead or misguide me.

Would you (your Dept.) consider a book I have just read "How Dare Call it Treason" fiction?
The author John A. Stormer is unknown to me.

He tells a fantastic and almost unbelievable story.
But, there is a ring of truth to it. I love this country and would prefer that it is not true. But,
I must remove blinders from my eyes and if it is true, I must do what I can to oppose those people who would destroy our American Republic.

I have been busy the last ten years saving children, etc, but, it seems to me a lot has happened.

Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter of September 23rd has been received and it is always reassuring to hear from citizens who demonstrate an awareness of the evils of communism and who desire to combat this threat to our freedoms.

I have repeatedly urged Americans to educate themselves regarding the true nature of communism in order that they will be able to resist its eroding influence. It is particularly important that young people, who will be our Nation's leaders in the future, understand this evil philosophy so they can detect it wherever it appears. The best way to defeat communism is through information, education and reliance on our democratic form of government.

While I would like to be of assistance to you, the FBI is strictly an investigative agency of the Federal Government and neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am a housewife confronted with the laborous task of trying to be an informed citizen. My main objective is to be a good American.

This simple objective should be easy to accomplish, but it is becoming increasingly difficult to define the term "good American" with all the "guilt by association" strewn about by many individuals and groups from one end of the political spectrum to the other. It would seem that the only group to whose benefit such chaos and confusion advantageously works is the Communist Party!

To prevent myself from contributing to this confusion, I am directing this inquiry to a person I know always balances his fight against Communism with his fight for the best interests of our United States of America. My inquiry is this:

What are the objectives of the Council of Foreign Relations? In your opinion are they working for the best interests of our country?

Council of Foreign Affairs

Page H3023. Congressman Fascell, (D) Florida, spoke concerning legislation he and several other Congressmen introduced to promote private U. S. participation in international organizations and movements, and to provide for the establishment of an Institute of International Affairs. He stated This legislation is intended to suggest an alternative to the continuing covert CIA support of various private undertakings which are important from the standpoint of U. S. foreign policy and which both need and deserve public support. - - - - We believe that there is a continuing need for providing public support to certain activities of this type. We maintain, however, that this support must be given in full public view, and that it should conform to certain standards.

Dear Sir,

I have long felt that your office was the one place to get honest information concerning political organizations.

Now I am desperately in need of the facts about The Council on Foreign Relations. It is being portrayed as an agent of subversion in this area.

If you are unable to supply me with information may be you could direct me to some other source.

Thanks so much.

Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter of April 8th has been received.

In response to your inquiry, this Bureau is strictly an investigative agency of the Federal Government and, as such, neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. I hope you will not infer either that we do or do not have material in our files relating to the organization you mentioned. I regret I am unable to suggest any source where you might obtain the information you are seeking.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter of March 26th has been received.

In reply to your request, I cannot comment as you desire since information in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice. I hope you will not infer either that we do or do not have material in our files relating to the organization you mentioned. The FBI has not investigated the Council on Foreign Relations.

This Bureau does not have for distribution the type of list you requested; however, you may wish to secure a copy of "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," prepared and released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, now known as the House Committee on Internal Security. In it are listed some of the groups and periodicals which have been cited by various state and Federal agencies, and a copy of it can be purchased for seventy cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. Checks or money orders should be drawn payable to the Superintendent of Documents. C.O.D. orders will not be accepted.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE:

The Council on Foreign Relations was founded in 1921 and is self-described as a noncommercial and nonpolitical organization which supports American foreign relations in an impartial and scholarly spirit.
